CLINTONIA

Hello Folks! I'm Stinker and I sort of helped the Seniors with the Clintonia this year. Pictured above are the doors we entered to basketball games and plays and parties and proms and programs and--oh yes, and to classes! There's "South Corridor" and--well, what memories does South Corridor hold? Come with me now and let's turn the pages back through the year of 1953 in

PROSELY

From Macbeth by Shakespeare we'll borrow,
 The three witches to tell us of tomorrow.
 The oldest witch, as scene unfolds
 A worn and evil caldron holds.
 As they dance they are moaning,
 Is it the future they are droning?
 "Double, double toil and trouble;
 Fire burn, and caldron bubble.
 Hail, all young thanes of Clinton High,
 (Says youngest hag with witchly cry)
 Hail, ye class of "53"
 Gather round and listen to me.
 Round about the caldron go;
 In the poisoned entrails throw.
 Throw in a bloody baboons bone,
 Ah ha, a barbarous barber will be Jim Wrone,
 To shave off mustaches men have grown."
 (The other witches danced and mocked her)
 "Eastham and Brandon will each be doctors.
 As Brandon over patient beams
 Eastham will sew up all the seams."
 The youngest witch cavorted round
 And laughed with hideous, wicked sound;
 "These many will be altar bound:
 Miller, Smith and Atteberry,
 Over the threshold husbands will carry,
 Houchin and Covey, they will be
 Homemakers of the same variety.
 Newberry, Hunter, and North too
 Housewifely duties they will do
 Betty Newberry, Wagner, and Moore,
 Big, brave husbands they will cook for,

Gaddis and Wantland they will be,
 Prominent housewives, you will see.
 Shirley Harris the vows will be uttering
 While her husband-to-be is stuttering.
 Brieghner, North, Issac and Ray
 All will have a wedding day.
 And all their children sturdy and bright
 They'll send to learn from William Wright
 Wakefield that profession will follow,
 And fill little heads that are so hollow.
 A secretary will be Jan Buck,
 While Sandy Sisco drives a truck."

The second witch now adds her take
 Throws in fillet of a fenny snake
 Eye of newt and toe of frog,
 Wool of bat and tongue of dog,
 "Double, double toil and trouble
 Fire burn and caldron bubble.
 In this steaming broth I see
 Three brave men would coaches be;
 Jackson, North, and Riva, athletic stuff,
 Will train guys to be strong and tough.
 And--this will set you on your ears--
 Baylor and Paddock will be engineers.
 Crawford and Bianucci, lawyers known far
 Will study well and pass the bar.
 Jim Harry will be a hunter of game,
 None of those animals little and tame.
 Floyd Harris to the Marines will go
 And Shirley Brown will design and sew.
 McKelvey will be a statesman and speaker,
 He will make men look timid and weaker.
 Neva Burns beside him will sit
 A good secretary with enthusiasm lit.
 Marie Watkins will be the same,
 Bill Lilliard will have fortune and fame.
 A well-known merchant he will be
 And trade with lands across the sea.
 Sue Ann Knox a musician will be
 Judy Huff she will accompany.
 Judy's voice and Sue's fingers
 Will make the kind of music that lingers.
 Throw in the jaw tooth of a fox

A drafter or contractor will be Donald Cox.
 Add a lion's jaw, big and hairy
 An Accountant will be Richard Ferry.
 Now we come to the profession of the soil
 For as farmers these boys will toil.
 Armstrong, Don DeMent and Jones,
 Will sing as they work, in beautiful tones.
 Schumaker, Jackson, and Edwin Day
 They'll be farmers happy and gay.
 And tall and lanky Ronny West,
 Of all of these will be one of the best.
 Also a farmer will be Fritz Crang,
 Many ribbons for his cows he'll hang.
 A commercial pilot will be Robert Jiles,
 And fly huge planes miles and miles.
 In Don Rapp a mechanic you'll find
 He knows cars from front to hind.
 Mary Alice Gano will be a stenographer
 While Henry Martin is a photographer.
 Mary Jo Farnsworth will own a nursery
 And Ellen Gunn will deal in artistry.
 Edna Jones scientific discoveries will make
 And carry on in Einstein's wake."

The third and youngest witch sits and leers,
 Out of her thin curled lip she sneers,
 "Scale of dragon, tooth of wolf,
 Witches' mummy, maw and gulf
 Of the ravined salt-sea shark,
 Root of hemlock digged i' the dark,
 Slivered in the moon's eclipse,
 Nose of Turk and Tartar's eyes,
 Double, double toil and trouble;
 Fire burn, and caldron bubble.
 I announce the profession of nurses,
 Their patients will not go away in hearses,
 Throw in snakes and eyes of toads,
 One of these will be Maribeth Rhoades,
 Included in this is Margaret Maurer,

To heal the sick she'll have the power,
 Along this road will walk Joey Lowe,
 The seeds of health and life she'll sow.
 Marilyn Miller will be the same,
 With careful treatment she'll ease the pain.
 Mary Rose Thompson will be a nurse too,
 Your pains and aches she'll cure for you.
 Marilyn Summers you'll go to with spills and ills
 She'll give you cough syrup and pink pills.

Duke Morrow will also do this work
 Sickness and duties she will not shirk
 Now we'll go on to Norman Moore,
 The sign, public accountant will grace his door
 Chandler, Miller, and Fleming will be
 Secretaries who punch a typewriter key.
 And second Sinatra will be Corwin Lane,
 Over him the teenagers will all raise Cain.
 Ted Blanchard will grow up to be a man,
 This is the project which early he began.
 Connie Sprague all F. H. A. will lead,
 She'll fulfill national and worldwide need,
 Mary Kay Chamberlain will be a star,
 She'll drive about in a Cadillac car,
 Oren Ruppert will own a Spurgeon sore,
 Businesslike to the very core,
 The army will induct Bill Wheeler,
 When he gets out he'll be a dealer.
 Joyce Anderson to journalism will aspire
 Writing editorials with venom and fire.
 The three witches dance around the pot,
 Around the steaming, brewing rot,
 Their eyes they roll, and words they chant,
 As one last final vow they pant.
 "When last of this class is dead and gone,
 Last breath of life from them is drawn
 To grave dark and deep they will be carried
 By mortician Berry they will be buried.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the seniors of the Class of '53, do hereby will our ability as salesmen, that we received from last year's graduating class, to next year's struggling yearbook promoters. It may here be noted that you are getting a better deal than we got, because we have superior abilities. The young marrieds of our class now will their womanly wiles to the hopeful spinsters of C.C.H.S. We now wish to will all the knowledge we have acquired in these halls of learning to all aspiring young freshmen. In closing, we will our exalted bleacher seats in assembly programs to all underclassmen who have trouble seeing or hearing.

I, Mary Rose Thompson, will my beautifully shaped limbs to Evonne Perring.

CLASS HISTORY

September, 1949, four years ago 118 valiant green freshies of the present senior class landed upon the campus of CCHS to wage their battle against ignorance and inequality. Our freshman year began by electing Norman Moore, president; Davey Jackson, Vice-President; Mary Rose Thompson, Secretary; and Sharon Wantland, Treasurer. Miss Rainey was our class advisor.

The main event of the year was our freshman party. Fritz Crang and Judy Moore were crowned King and Queen. In the spring of 1950 we were promoted to "Silly Sophomores".

September of 1950 began with only 97 sophomores who were no longer confused and uncertain. Miss Marshall advised the class; and Diana Breighner as President, Shirley Harris as Treasurer, Fritz Crang as Vice-President, and Ruth Kepner as Secretary were elected to lead the class. Our Sophomore Class party was a big success and Dorothy Tweedy and Jim Rude were elected by the class to serve as King and Queen.

September of 1951 our Junior year finally arrived. Our number was decreasing rapidly with only 84 of us left. Our biggest joy was the arrival of our class rings along with "Cheaper by the Dozen" our class play. Junior Eastham was President, Ronnie West, Vice-President, Dorles Dillow, Secretary, and Mary Alice Gano, Treasurer. Mr. McGuire was the class advisor.

The most unforgettable event of our, thus far, three years was the Junior-Senior Prom. The theme as "Under the Sea" and Johnny Mooreland's orchestra provided a wonderful evening of dancing.

Our senior year began in September of 1952, our big year. We began it with only 76; our number decreased greatly, which was to be expected but it hadn't altered our high morale in the slightest degree. Things began to happen immediately. Bev. Chandler was elected Student Cabinet President with Diana Breighner, Shirley Harris, Fritz Crang, and Stanley Brandon elected to serve with her.

Homecoming rolled around and Al Olsen's orchestra made music for our dancing. Bev Chandler was crowned Queen, and Marti Maurer, Mary Rose Thompson, Shirley Harris, and Rosetta North attended the Queen.

The magazine sale hit its peak of the years, and revealed some excellent senior salesmen. Mary Rose Thompson and John Bianucci took top honors at the chili supper and at this event, I might add, the girls were the guests and the boys made the chili. Fritz Crang, President; Maribeth Rhoades, Vice-President; Mary Rose Thompson, Secretary; and Sharon Gaddis, Treasurer ruled over the class, along with Mrs. Knochel. The little white name cards began to float around along with the graduation pictures.

Our senior year ended in a rush with our Play, The Prom, Baccalaureate, Honor's Day, and finally Graduation. We then became the Grad's of '53. We hated leaving our Alma Mater and saying farewell to it all. To our successors we leave the safekeeping of CCHS and all of its proud traditions.
